High Performance

The brushless induction motor of the Mikro 220R is extremely efficient. In 20 seconds, it accelerates the rotor to its maximum RCF of 31,514 x g, which is sufficient for all standard applications. A "quick run" key is used for short processing runs. The microprocessor provides easy control and great functionality. It is equipped with a lid lock and interlock. The program memory makes sure the most recent data remains stored for quick rerunning.

Bio Containment

The Mikro 220R is provided with a bio containment lid, which provides an effective seal against hazards, and which has been certified for bio containment by the Centre for Applied Microbiology and Research at Porton Down, U.K.

Benefits

The compact refrigerated Mikro 220R centrifuge, thanks to its small size, saves space in the laboratory. Even at maximum speed it operates very quietly. Short acceleration and braking times ensure rapid sample processing.

Quiet and Small

The Mikro 220R is a valuable aid in the small laboratory, where noise can be an issue and ensures whisper-quiet operation even at maximum speed.
